Col. Flood Be Our Next Judge

When the Democratic caucus of the General Assembly of Virginia meets next Tuesday to nominate a Judge to succeed the beloved Robert P. Hutcheson of the fifth judicial circuit, it will parbe with proper respect to the memory of one of the finest jurists ever to serve in the Old Dominion. The Times Virginian believes that Judge Hutcheson was without peer. To name his successor will require careful study of qualifications of any mentioned for the important post.

We have before us a copy of "Who's Who In America" and we have opened it on a page which lists the qualifications of an able attorney who, we are convinced, should be nominated for this judgeship. His name is JOEL W. FLOOD, of Appomattox. We are greatly impressed with the long record of public service rendered by this distinguished Virginia Gentleman. He is a veteran of the county, state and federal courts. As commonwealth's attorney, special assistant to the attorney general of Virginia and as assistant federal district attorney, he has attained that peak of experience and outlook so desirable in a judge. Our Circuit has many learned and able attorneys, but none more in whom the qualities of a successful judge are more keenly blended than in this distinguished son of Appomattox. We sincerely trust that the caucus next Tuesday will honor this circuit and honor itself, by naming Col. Flood to the vacancy.

In passing, we desire to pay a tribute of great esteem to the departed Judge Hutchson. Few men more completely endeared themselves to those with whom they labored and lived. He was truly a great Virginian and we know of no higher compliment we could bestow upon any man!

This newspaper speaks for the entire Circuit in expressing deepest sympathy to his bereaved family.

Three C's Are Foundation Of Modern Civilization

From Hopewell News

Business is built on the three C's. Confidence, credit and cooperation. All three are important. Our modern industrial age would collapse without them. When any of them are lost or get out of adjustment, we run into trouble.

What is true of business as a whole is true right here in our town. The doctor, the lawyer, the minister, the plant official, the worker, the clerk, the head of the civic organization, lodge or church society may not fully realize it, but their success is also more or less bound up in the success of the business life of the community as a whole.

So every person, whether he or she is actively engaged in business or not, has a vital stake in maintaining the confidence, credit and cooperation of the business intrests of the town, as well as that of the State and Nation. Each of us can do our part by having confidence ourselves, by keeping our own credit good and by working together for the benefit of the community.

Appomattox Goal For 1940

During the decade just ended, a great number of industries have found it necessary to limit expansion, and it has been difficult for a town such as Appomattox to interest officials of factories to locate a new plant in their area. However, as the "40's" begin, the industries of the nation are on the verge of a great boom and the time is ripe for expansion. Appomattox can furnish labor, sites, and all requirements of necessity for another factory. We suggest that the securing of a factory pay-roll be our principal goal for 1940.

UNIVERSALLY POPULAR

The "Sunday School Lesson" published each week in this newspaper has been adopted by thousands of church instructors throughout the United States as a regular part of their weekly work.

It is a review and exposition of the international lesson for each week, prepared by Dean Harold L. Lundquist of the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, a recognized leader in the nation's church work. Dean Lundquist has been active in teaching youthful groups for years, thereby acquiring an insight into the needs of these people for understandable explanations of Bible passages.

In view of his accomplishments in church work, it is not surprising that Dean Lundquist's exposition of the weekly Sunday School lesson is being used in almost every community of the nation. As teacher or student you will find it extremely helpful.

Making Wallpaper in Rolls

Paper in continuous rolls was invented by Nicholas Louis Robert of Essones, in 1799, and the English patents "to make paper without seam or join" were obtained in London in 1801 by John Gamble and Didot St. Leger. The use of paper in continuous lengths was not, however, permitted in England before 1830, because of the important revenue derived from the tax stamps on the small sheets. France, meanwhile, made use of the new invention after 1810.

An open letter to the motoring public

Advertising writers can't make gasoline.

A bombardment of claims and counter claims has broken loose—and it may confuse the purchaser of gasoline.

Since the public has a right to be accurately informed about the gasolines sold today, the American Oil Company wishes to make a statement of policy regarding its regular gasoline and special motor fuel.

Comparing the quality of crude is not enough. Comparing anti-knock is not enough. It is the sum total of all the desirable quality charactaristics that makes a good gasoline or motor fuel.

This constitutes the only real yardstick for comparison. Fair comparisons should take in every quality a good gasoline or motor fuel should have.

During the 29 years of its existence, the American Oil Company has not found it necessary to change the names of its products. Throughout all of this period, it has kept faith by constantly improving its products.

The American Oil Company has the largest and most modern refining units in the world.

The achievements of its scientists and engineers have been recognized as among the most important advances in chemical engineering.

The American Oil Company has the resources and facilities to furnish the best products and the highest values obtainable from crude petroleum.

We know what goes into Amoco-Gas and American Gas. We know these products never have had—and still do not have—any equals in their respective fields. Regardless of competitive claims, we say this unqualifiedly and without reservation.

As to American Gas, we sell it for exactly what it is—a pure, "sweet," 100% petroleum product. It is not "hopped up" with added chemicals which are not combustible. Its full range of quality characteristics comes from petroleum only. We don't try to make it a premium gas by merely calling it one. American Gas is the best buy at regular gas price.

As to Amoco-Gas, it is our premium motor fuel. It costs more to make. It's worth more. It does more. It must sell for more. You can not get a real premium fuel at a regular gas price. Amoco-Gas is instantly recognizable as a premium motor fuel by the velvety smoothness of the car's operation.

You can't get something for nothing. We have faith in the inherent common sense of the motorist—and in his ability to separate fact from claim.

American Oil Company products are the finest obtainable. They are backed by the entire resources of the American Oil Company, and accepted by the public as honest values, honestly described.

The remarkable increase in the sales of American Oil Company products proves that the motorist continues to be discriminating and alert in recognizing the "Sign of Greater Values."
